Shale plays continue to hold a significant place in the world's energy future. URTeC is the only event that brings the entire asset team together under one roof to connect on all things unconventional. It remains the most vibrant and vital event that every upstream energy professional should attend because its collaborative platform and innovation exchange sustains and propels the industry's ongoing success.

URTeC DELIVERS

- ▶ Targeted, qualified, multi-disciplinary group of prospects connecting on all things unconventional
- ▶ The industry's premier, peer-reviewed, multi-disciplinary event for unconventional resource development attracting the brightest minds and thought leaders under one roof
- ▶ Unprecedented reach from the combined resources of 11 of the world's leading geoscience and engineering professional societies representing the complete spectrum of unconventional play development
- ▶ High visibility, integrated, cross-discipline platform to showcase products and services to the largest, qualified and most significant network of buyers and developers of new technologies, products and services
- ▶ Twenty-four hours of the most cost effective, face-to-face networking time for real life two-way conversations to humanize your brand with existing customers and new prospects
- ▶ Five years of quantified success
- ▶ An investment into our shared industry's prosperity via this unique event designed, planned, and developed by industry experts
- ▶ First hand access to the knowledge gained from the industry research, innovations, and solutions exchanged in this one-of-a-kind learning pipeline that cuts across the complete spectrum of resource play development
