IBA Temporary Subscription

AAPG Datapages Archives Database

For university teams competing in the AAPG Imperial Barrel Award competition.

INSTRUCTIONS

All data fields must be filled, and the completed form sent via email to a programs coordinator at iba@aapg.org.

TERMS

Institutions who have a team competing in the AAPG Imperial Barrel Award may request temporary access (up to 120 days) to the AAPG Datapages Archives database. Access is via IP Authentication technology (see detail below) so all users at the registered location are able to access the database. Students and faculty who are not on the competition team ARE WELCOME TO USE THE DATABASE during the competition phase in the hopes that the institution can evaluate the subscription for eventual subscription.

All users at the institution agree, with a signed copy of this application, to strictly observe the Terms and Conditions as posted on the Search website (<http://archives.datapages.com>) and other Datapages-hosted websites. Failure to observe the Terms and Conditions, or any abuse of the database website, may result in immediate disconnection of this access, to the possible detriment of the competing team.
